

XM radio is a great service to those like me who spend a great deal of time driving around our home regions, not only providing great entertainment, but with the addition of local news and traffic they can help others like me navigate the mayhem that is bay area traffic. If Lobbyists want to stop XM from being able to do something like this, it is because they have realized too late that this a the best thing to happen to radio, and are try desprately to cling to their powerbase. Why shouldn't I be able to get access to traffic and local news? My car is set up for satelite radio and I pay for it, shouldn't we have an opportunity to have that information if our service wants to provide it? Thank you I know you will make the right decision.
